

- x That he wished everyone an enjoyable and restful holiday season after a semester of hard work.

IV. Public Comment

- x Chancellor hiring committee members were urged to revive the past practice of having finalists sit for questions and open comment, perhaps in Diego Rivera Theatre.
- x Members expressed the need for a timely message to the college community regarding the state audit, and for a better handling of media issues. Dissatisfaction was expressed at the media knowing of this situation before the college community.

Vocational Learning Opportunities for Undocumented DACA Students and to Mitig Harm To Employees Upon Any Revocation of the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) Policy,” and expand this resolution to protect all DACA and undocumented students and employee; be it therefore

Resolved that the Academic Senate recommend the Chancellor and the Board of Trustees to explore the following two issues regarding DACA:

a. Policies that would define information access level to the maximum extent that the law allows to safeguard undocumented students and employees and keep CCSF’s core as stated in its mission to serve the community and provide access, affordable and high quality education to all its students.

b. Adopt a neutral status and abstain from voluntarily assisting with resources to federal officials engaged in immigration law enforcement of locating and identifying DACA individuals in the deportation of undocumented students and employees and keep CCSF’s commitment as stated in its mission to serve the community and provide access, a and high quality education to all its students.

Resolved, that the Academic Senate urge the Chancellor Board of Trustees to research the impact and feasibility of the two policies of safeguarding data sharing of DACA students; abstain resources to help locate and identify DACA individuals, and present the information at a board meeting in Spring 2017.

F. Impact of Changes to Course Repeatability

Resolution 2016.12.14.04

Reviewing and Changing the Limiting Nature to Student Success and Access of the California Community College Repeatability Regulations

Whereas, California community colleges have built extensive depth and breadth of educational programs for over 50 years, developing programs that contribute to a skilled, progressive workforce; fostering a creative, innovative citizenry, capable of critical thought; promoting community vision, health, and lifelong learning; nourishing a diverse, multi-generational context in which all Californians can learn and grow; and in this providing an essential component of the social fabric of our state; and

Whereas in the summer of 2012, when California community colleges were turning hundreds of thousands of students due to budget shortfalls, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, in the context of rationing education, passed regulations to limit the repeatability of coursework particularly in disciplines such as foreign languages, the Arts, and physical education in order to focus on basic skills and a narrowed range of certificate and degree programs; and

Whereas, as industries change and modernize, these new repeatability limitations affect the ability of many community college students, particularly those enrolled in career and technical education programs, to return to take a more current version of a course they have already completed in order to transfer, update skills, or maintain professional competence; and

Whereas, lack of repeatability in perfor.67 (ve)-1 (s (a)-1.ki (t)-1.l >>BDC 12 0 7et)3 (a)-0.9 (ec

Whereas, the perception of “public taxpayer abuse” involving students being able to repeat Community College courses even when educational research indicates such is pedagogically sound for the targeted disciplines is fundamentally incorrect given that the public pays the taxes that fund Community College courses and has every right under the California Master Plan to repeat courses for which they have paid; and

Whereas, in November 2012 voters passed Proposition 30, and in November 2016 voters
